

Bromsgrove Photographic Society

Website Privacy Policy

(To be read in conjunction with the BPS Data Protection Policy)

23rd May 2018

Our new Website Privacy Policy is driven by the introduction of The Data Protection Act 2018 incorporating the EU General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR). This replaces our previous Privacy Policy which was last updated on 22nd December 2014.

Bromsgrove Photographic Society is committed to protecting your privacy. Please read this Privacy Policy to understand how we use and protect the information that you provide to us when using our website, contacting us or using the Society's facilities. Please refer to our main Data Protection Policy for details of the Society's use of membership and visitor's personal data. A copy can be found under Information/BPS Documents/GDPR.

Whenever you give us your contact information including your email address you consent to the collection, use and transfer of your information under the terms of our Privacy Policy.

We do not ask for any payment details to be entered on our website nor emailed to us. Any and all payment to Bromsgrove Photographic Society must be made to the Treasurer or Secretary by post or in person or an authorised bank transfer to the Society's account initiated by you.

Information we collect from you and how we use it

When you visit our website to make an enquiry, you may be asked to provide certain information about yourself. This may include (but is not limited to) your name, address and contact details. This information is collected for purposes of relationship management and to enable us to communicate with you at that time and in the future.

We may from time to time use your details to communicate information that we feel you may find essential or useful by email, post or telephone.

Should you participate in a competition or promotional feature, complete a survey, or request a programme or any other information from us, we will also ask for certain information.

We collect statistical information as well as information about you from telephone messages, emails or letters you send to us.

This information is necessary to enable us to administer members' needs. We will also use and analyse the collected information to administer, support, improve and develop the Society.

In some instances, we will use personal data to provide entry to inter-club competitions. This is conditional upon the other clubs concerned abiding by the PAGB rules.

As part of our research, we may use your information to contact you for your views on aspects of our Society as well as to occasionally notify you about important changes to our website or programme.

Our means of communication may be by post, telephone or email via Google Groups.

Bromsgrove Photographic Society

Should you decide that you no longer wish to receive any further communications from Bromsgrove Photographic Society, please let us know by telephone, letter or email.

We will not otherwise share, sell or distribute any of the information you provide to us without your consent unless required to do so by law.

How we secure customer information

Bromsgrove Photographic Society makes every effort to secure your information and maintain your confidentiality.

Any personal information you give us will be securely protected in accordance with the Society's Data Protection Policy.

Contacting us by email

Whilst browsing the Bromsgrove Photographic Society website you can use the details that can be found under Information/BPS Documents/Committee Members Chart & Email addresses, to contact us by email. The mailboxes are not monitored daily.

Viewing your information

You are entitled to see the information we hold about you. You may request that we make any necessary changes to ensure that it is accurate and kept up to date. If you wish to do this, please contact us by emailing the Secretary, details of which can be found at the bottom of this document. In normal circumstances, we will not make a charge but we are entitled by law to charge a fee of £10 to meet some of our costs in providing you with details of the information we hold about you.

If you are not happy with any aspect of how we collect and use your data, you have the right to complain to the Information Commissioner's Office (ICO), the UK supervisory authority for data protection issues (www.ico.org.uk). We should be grateful if you would contact us first if you do have a complaint so that we can try to resolve it for you.
